The Dream Resource Center has emerged as a national source of innovative research, education, and policy on immigration issues. We believe that young people deserve the right to learn, be healthy, and pursue their dreams—regardless of immigration status. Our work is critical to ensure that immigrant youth continue to be at the forefront of the national conversations that directly impact their lives and families.

PROJECTS

- The Dream Summer National Internship Program provides leadership opportunities for undocumented immigrant youth to strengthen a multi-generational, intersectional, and cross-racial social justice movement. Dream Summer builds a national network of immigrant youth leaders.

- The Healthy California project develops leaders at the intersection of immigrant rights and health care access, and promotes immigrant wellness throughout California.

- The CIRCLE Project partners with community organizations to provide healing spaces for immigrant youth to navigate the barriers to health care and cope with the health issues that arise from growing up undocumented.

MAJOR ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Published the first three books ever written by and about undocumented youth: Underground Undergrads (2008), Undocumented and Unafraid (2012), and Dreams Deported (2015).

- Launched Dream Summer in 2011, the first national internship program for undocumented youth. Since then, over 400 immigrant leaders and allies have received over $2 million in leadership awards.

- Fostered the leadership of Dream Summer alumni, who have have appeared in national media and played a pivotal role in advancing state and national policy, such as the California Dream Act, Driver’s Licenses bill (AB 60), TRUST Act, and Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA).

- Led the first study by and about undocumented immigrant youth regarding health care access, through the Healthy California project. The research resulted in “Undocumented and Uninsured: A Five-Part Report on Immigrant Youth and the Struggle to Access Healthcare in California.”
